Dear WCAAS Participants:

Greetings and welcome to California State University, Northridge. If you could have seen us teaching for years in trailers amid the rubble after the Northridge Earthquake of 1994, you would know how far we have come as a campus in those intervening years and how happy we are to be able to welcome you to our restored and beautiful campus today. Many people worked for years to rebuild the campus, and we hope you like what you find here now, from the palm trees in the central quad to the solar panel parasols in the parking lots, and from the centrally located Oviatt Library to the replanted orange grove strolling park (west of the Orange Gove Bistro in the University Club, where our Saturday luncheon will be served). Nearby studios have used Sierra Quad and Oviatt Library as sets for movies including "Legally Blonde 2" (2003) and "Star Trek" (2009). CSUN is the first university in the world with its own environmentally-friendly megawatt fuel-cell generator, and our new Performing Arts Center will open in January.

We are enthusiastic about all our presenters and panelists, and we know you are looking forward to hearing from our Keynote speaker, Dr. Gail Hershatter, Vice President of the Association for Asian Studies. I hope this gathering of scholars will provide, beyond the formal presentations, ample opportunity for comparing notes within and across disciplines, and perhaps for making a few new friends.

Each of the 9 regional conferences of the AAS is invited to forward the name of a graduate student to represent the WCAAS on a student panel at the next AAS conference, this time in March 2012 in Toronto. Please recommend a graduate student whose paper impressed you at the Conference to the WCAAS Board members. The Board members' names and email addresses are listed toward the end of this Conference Program.

Again, welcome to CSUN. May your weekend be rewarding intellectually and collegially.

Aki Hirota, 2010 WCAAS Program Chair Professor and Japanese Section Head Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures California State University, Northridge Œ

Arirang

Arirang, Arirang, Arariyo
We now go over the Arirang hill.
Like so many stars in the sky
Human life has troubles, this and that
Where the coal burns smoke arises,
But where my heart burns,
Nothing! Nothing!
He who deserts me and goes away,
Will have sore feet within a mile.
Arirang, Arirang, Arariyo.
We now go over the Arirang hill.

2011 Conference Joint annual meeting of ASPAC and WCAAS "Asia Rising and the Rise of Asian America"

Pacific Basin Institute at Pomona College, Claremont, CA June 17-20, 2011

http://www.pomona.edu/pbi/

The Western Conference of the Association for Asian Studies

The WCAAS is a non-profit organization including member academic institutions, faculty, students, and staff in the U.S. inter-mountain states plus California and Washington. With this year's meeting at the University of Arizona in Tucson, Arizona, WCAAS completes 46 years of service to the scholarly community. Since our first meeting in 1963, literally thousands of research papers, covering all major disciplines and every corner of Asia, have been presented and discussed at our annual conference. More than a hundred of these monographs became part of our [Selected Papers in Asian Studies], a refereed series featuring some of the best work from our meetings. WCAAS offers graduate and undergraduate students opportunities to share their research, gain valuable feedback from experts, and mingle in an academic setting with peers from other institutions. For local K-12 teachers, WCAAS meetings similarly provide-through outreach activities and formal panels--the chance to enhance their knowledge base and teaching about Asia in the classroom. Interested attendees from the community help "localize" our meetings, also, as do various Asian-related cultural performances and activities that enhance ties between WCAAS, hosting institutions, and the community. As WCAAS and its members approach nearlyfifty years of service and communion, we not only celebrate past achievements but are mindful of our need to improve as scholars, teachers, and citizens.

ASIAN SURVEY

ISSN: 0004-4687 eISSN: 1533-838X

Asian Survey provides penetrating analysis and commentary on the politics, economics, social issues, and foreign relations of countries from Afghanistan to the Pacific Rim. Since 1961, this scholarly yet accessible journal has offered empirically grounded insider perspectives on important current events, making it one of the most widely read and quoted sources on developments in the region.

JOURNAL OF VIETNAMESE STUDIES

ISSN: 1559-372X eISSN: 1559-3738

Journal of Vietnamese Studies is the only English-language journal devoted exclusively to the study of Vietnamese history, politics, culture and society. It also features articles on topics traditionally set apart from mainstream area studies scholarship, such as the Vietnamese diaspora and the Vietnam War.
